Gentlemen:

Last year (1949-50) I attended Fullerton, Junior College where I met a young man who claimed to have watched a strange flying object about north-west of Fullerton. Its shape made him think of the silly flying saucers that people were having hallucinations about. However, he managed to get two different pictures of it, whatever it was.

I managed to get a copy of both pictures and I am sending one of them to you. I'd send both of them; but since there are no such things as saucers, I wouldn't bother you with two fakes. One fake is enough! The one I am sending was taken with infra-red film and the other with ordinary film.

Anyway, I thought that our dear ol' Air Force might get a big bang out of it as they throw darts at it....particularly as it looks like a "special, research balloon..." Maybe you guys might puncture it, so I'd be careful at the way you throw anything at it.

Oh, yes, the guy thought that they came from (excuss me, "it") from the general direction of Muroc Field, California.

If I might be of any "earthly" use to you, please don't hesitate in calling on me.

Yours for clearer skies,

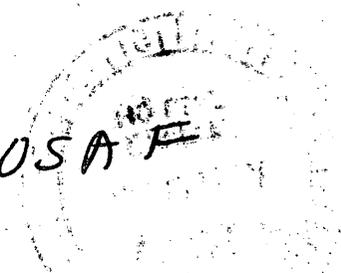

Albert Ehrke
